

GOOD HEALTH

starts at

WORK

“There’s something going round at the minute.”

To avoid the spread of bugs and viruses, if you are able work from home and if you have children consider if they are well enough to go to school.

Keeping a well-stocked medicine cabinet at home can help you self-care for when you are unwell.

Find out more here about how good health can start at work.

